

Going Concern Statement

Under General Accepted Account Principles, disclosures are required when there is substantial doubt about an entity's ability to continue as a going concern or when substantial doubt is alleviated because of consideration of management's plans.

The 2023 Audited financial statements do not contain a going concern disclosure.